Points to Check Before Ordering Materials from Off-Campus

③ Make sure you have entered the correct information on the My Account request screen.

There are two types of off-campus requests: photocopy and interlibrary loan.

Photocopy: Requesting a copy of a book/magazine.

Interlibrary loan: Borrowing the actual book.

Note:

- For document copying, please request only one article (chapter), and for physical loan, please request only one book.
- Photocopy is permitted within the scope of copyright law.

【Book Chapter/Section】

For books by multiple authors, each chapter (section) is considered an independent work, and copying is permitted within the limits of each author's portion. Please specify a page count that is less than half of the chapter/section, or consider changing to an interlibrary loan.

【Articles Published in Journals】

For journals published a reasonable period of time prior (weekly magazines: one week, monthly magazines: one month, quarterly/yearly magazines: three months), you may copy the entire article.

For articles published in the latest issue, please specify a page count of less than half of the actual length of the article, or request a photocopy after the next issue is published.
